

Mission

Our mission is to deliver consistently superior investment performance. We pursue this goal through a combination of research-driven, fundamental investing and the insights of our veteran portfolio managers, some of whom have been managing the same portfolios for decades. While our managers work within a disciplined investment framework, they are encouraged to follow their own distinct management styles.

In a world that is too often focused on short-term results, this combination of primary research and the insight of our portfolio managers helps ClearBridge Advisors remain committed to delivering the long-term results that our investors have grown to expect.
